

1.  $O(\log n)$ , because binary search halves the remaining input each step.
2.  $O(n)$ , scans every element once.
3. Logarithmic time, since the search space is cut in half repeatedly.